

NECK TO NECK: The Fall/Winter runways favoured oversized jewellery, particularly the chunky choker — from sci-fi-meets-cocktail to fetish-chic, stick your neck out!

WATCH THIS SPACE

It all started with a phone call ELLE fashion editor Daphne Chen made to Carolyn Kan of Carrie K. “There’s this choker that Taylor Tomasi Hill wore at fashion week that I can’t get out of my head! Am dying to shoot something like that. Can you make it?” To which, the ELLE Awards 2010 Jewellery Designer of the Year replied, “Yeah, why not?” And she ingeniously created a two-piece sterling-silver choker that can be worn stacked or separately — exclusively for our cover. Model Anna Zaslada, blessed with a gazelle-like neck, worked the choker, with Boucheron fine jewellery and Giorgio Armani togs, like a rock star in front of the camera. In fact, we were surprised that the Polish 17-year-old wasn’t jet-lagged, since she arrived in Singapore barely three days before our shoot. She was such a dream to work with that within five frames, art director Joan Lim yelled, “OK, we have our cover shot!” ELLE

One for every finger: Quatre rings in chocolate and white chocolate from Boucheron.

For a subtle flush, try Shu Uemura Glow On in Light Peach while eyes get a flattering blend of pastels and neutrals with the Clarins Eye Quartet Mineral Palette in Pastels.

For a natural yet polished glow, try M.A.C. Glamglass in Rich & Witty, The Body Shop Honey Bronze Brilliance Powder and lashings of Chanel Inimitable Extrême Mascara.

STICK YOUR NECK OUT

The turtleneck is back: Fitted, long-sleeved with an elongated neck. Add the essential retro boyish Philo-approved appeal to a '60s dropped-waist tunic.

Gazar checked dropped-waist dress with attached belt, by PRADA. Thermal cotton skinny-fit turtleneck, by CÉLINE. Gold-plated heart ring, $198, by CARRIE K. from Quintessential.

BEAUTY NOTE

Remember that modern beauty is not about being matchy-matchy. We love fresh combinations like bright orange nails and mauve-pink lips.

SWEAT THIS

The oversized kitschy sweater completes the relaxed urban, dropped-waist silhouette of Fall.
